The Bedwetting Handbook is written by a Pediatric Urologist for parents and families of children with bedwetting (nocturnal enuresis) problems. It is a complete book with illustrations, guidance, education and options for treatment. The intent of the book is to provide information to families so they can choose a treatment that is best for their child's situation. Since bedwetting is caused by many factors, the book attempts to empower parents to pursue a treatment plan (medication, bedwetting alarm, restructuring daytime bathroom habits, rewards, etc.) that will provide results. This book is a one of a kind and geared for parents.
